ATTENDANCE INCREASES AT SOUTH WILCOX

The South Wilcox Street Methodist church was filled to capacity for both services Sunday morning and evening, when the pastor, Rev. F. Lamar McGown, brought two inspiring and helpful messages.

The Sunday school is making wonderful progress under the capable superintendent, Miss Betty Holloman. There are 121 enrolled in Sunday school, with 109 present last, Sunday. Each Sunday the attendance shows an increase.

Delegates from this church attended the district conference at Richardson Tuesday, all reporting a splendid conference. The delegates who attended were Rev. McGown, Rev. G. C. Ford, Clyde Ford, R. V. Reed and J. H. Holloman.

The ladies of the missionary society held their meeting Monday afternoon at the usual time at the church, enjoying a delightful mission program on "Schools in Brazil."

April Showers Paying Frequent Visits To City

If the phrase "April showers bring May flowers" is a reality, then McKinney will be a veritable flower garden this spring, since showers and spring rains are visiting the city almost daily. Rainfall totalling one-tenth of an inch fell in this city Tuesday night, accompanied by an electrical and thunderstorm. Already a rainfall of three or four inches has been recorded here this month, bearing out the saying that "April is truly a month of showers."

The weather forecast for McKinney and vicinity indicates cloudy and unsettled weather with probable scattered thundershowers Wednesday and Thursday.

DEATH OF T. M. M'DANIELS AT WICHITA FALLS

Friends in McKinney have received the sad news of the death of T. M. McDaniels which occurred at his late home in Wichita Falls Saturday. Funeral services were held in that city. The deceased, who died suddenly, was well known in McKinney where he formerly lived, being a traveling shoe salesman. He resided in the residence at the corner of College and Tucker streets, which was owned by J. E. Rhea and which was recently destroyed by fire.

The deceased is survived by his wife and one son, Tom McDaniels, of Wichita Falls. His demise was learned with much regret by his many McKinney friends.

R. D. Erwin, prominent McKinney insurance man, is much improved today from his recent illness. Mr. Erwin is one of our state's most successful and widely known insurance men. He helped organize the Southland Life Insurance company of Dallas, which big Texas company he has represented for twenty-five years as district agent with headquarters at McKinney.

LAWN OF SOUTH WILCOX CHURCH IS LANDSCAPED

The church lawn of the South Wilcox Street Methodist church is being landscaped, with shrubs and flowers planted by the young men and women of the church. The church parsonage, occupied by Rev. F. Lamar McGown and wife, is also being beautified.

The shrubs for these lawns were donated by the Lee Hedgcoxe & Son and the W. H. Coffman nurseries, while members of the church assisted in the work. The ladies of the missionary society are also planting summer flowers, and within the next few weeks, it is hoped that the church grounds and parsonage lawn will be among the most attractive and well arranged in the city.

The members of the Wilcox church are ever active in keeping their church property and its surroundings in the most up-to-date and attractive manner.

MAURY HUGHES TO OPEN CAMPAIGN IN M'KINNEY APR. 28

HON. MAURY HUGHES

Hon. Maury Hughes of Dallas, candidate for Governor of Texas, has announced that he will make the opening address of his campaign in McKinney Saturday afternoon, April 28.

He informed friends that a group of local citizens had invited him to open his campaign here and that he had accepted the invitation.

Rev. and Mrs. G. B. Bradshaw are celebrating the arrival of a fine baby girl, born to them at the City hospital Wednesday afternoon, April 11. Mother and babe are doing fine. Rev. Bradshaw is the well-known and liked pastor of the North McKinney Baptist church.

Miss Rena Roemmele, daughter of Mrs. F. J. Roemmele of this city, has gone to Ardmore, Okla., where she will be anesthetist in a big sanitarium there. Miss Roemmele is a graduate of Baylor hospital, Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Goggins have moved to Clarkesville. Misses Bertie and Blanche Goggins are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Goggins. Clifton Goggins, well-known McKinney tailor, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Goggins. We regret to lose this good family from our city.

J. M. Gay of Sudan, Texas, is at home here on a brief visit to his family. He states that the 24,000 acre Newsome farms located in Lamb and Bailey counties, on the Lower Texas plains, have a very flattering outlook for good crops again this year. Sometime back, one of the heaviest and most beautiful snows he ever saw visited that section. It fell gently without wind or drifting, covering the ground to a depth of more than a foot. The Newsome land made from a half to a bale average per acre last year. Cotton is usually planted there in the month of May. Business conditions in that part of the state are better now than at any time since the depression struck in 1929.

Douglas Erwin, a young business man of Lubbock, and wife have returned home after a few days visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Erwin in this city. They were called here by the illness of his father, whom the young couple left much improved when they returned to their home at Lubbock.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF MRS. N. J. RUE AT GOOD HOPE

AGED MOTHER REV. ALVIN O. RUE PRESBYTERIAN MINISTER

Interment of the late Mrs. N. J. Rue took place at Good Hope cemetery at 2:00 o'clock Thursday afternoon, April 12. Her funeral services were conducted in the Good Hope church by her former pastor, Rev. J. L. Cleveland, now of Fort Worth, assisted by Rev. R. B. Evans of Prosper and, by her own request, her preacher son, Rev. Alvin O. Rue, pastor of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., at Hillsboro for the past five years, and formerly pastor at McKinney. Her grandsons were the active pallbearers.

Born in Tennessee.

Miss Nancy Jane Ferguson was born, April 29, 1854, near Lowden ,Tennessee, being seventy-nine years, eleven months and twelve days old when she died at 10:00 o'clock Wednesday morning, April 11, at the old farm home of the Rue family located in the Good Hope-Parvin community, just over the Collin line in Denton county, on Route 2, Celina. She was a daughter of James A. and Susan Ferguson, who moved to Texas in 1859 and first settled near Whitesboro in Grayson county, where they lived until 1865, when they moved to the Rhea's Mill community in West Collin, and, then the following year, moved out to Parvin.

On June ,7 1871, she was married to P. R. Rue, a substantial farmer, with whom she lived most happily for thirty-six years, he dying in 1907 and being buried in the Good Hope cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Rue were an honored couple, who reared a fine family of children and whose influence was always felt on the side of morality, righteous and upright living. She was a lifelong member of the Presbyterian church. She lived a life of service and devotion to her church. No worthy appeal for assistance —personal or otherwise—was ever turned away by this good woman and her husband if it was within their power to respond to the call. She lived to a ripe old age and was ready, happy and willing to go when the summons came to join her beloved husband and the host of other loved ones who had gone on before to a better world.

J. C. BARGER BURIED WEDNESDAY HIGHLAND GRAVE

Junius C. Barger, 80, passed away at the home of his son in Fort Worth Tuesday, April 10. Until a few years ago he was a resident of Anna, in North Collin, where funeral services were held in the Christian church at 2:00 o'clock Wednesday afternoon conducted by the Rev. W. R. Vivrette of Denton, with interment in Highland cemetery, south of Anna.

Pallbearers named were A. Sherley, M. C. Powell, J. T. Shaw, L. H. Goforth, Clay Riggins and H. G. Giles.

He is survived by a son, Bonne Barger, of Fort Worth, and two sisters in Kentucky. Mrs. Barger died 24 years ago.

A. L. Kirby, getting his mail on Route 1, Princeton, was a business visitor in McKinney Saturday. While in town, he enrolled for the Weekly Democrat-Gazette for the ensuing year. Mr. Kirby is a son of F. Kirby, former County Treasurer of Collin county, now living in McKinney.

MRS. ALLBRIGHT BECOMES BRIDE LONGVIEW MAN

A wedding, most beautiful in its simplicity, was solemnized Wednesday, April 12, at twilight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Thompson when their daughter, Mary Frances Albright became the bride of Clyde King of Longview. Dr. R. L. Cowan officiated, using the impressive Episcopal ring ceremony. Only the immediate families were present. The entire lower floor of the Thompson home was artistically decorated in bridal wreath with white lilies used at the altar.

Mrs. King wore a blue sheer suit with accessories also in blue and her bridal bouquet was fashioned of talisman rosebuds. Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. King left for a brief honeymoon, after which they will reside in Longview at 503 East Lagrille street.

The bride is one of McKinney's most accomplished and popular young ladies, having been born and reared here, being from one of the oldest families in the county. Among her many accomplishments she has chosen art as a means towards beautifying not only her own home and surroundings but has been most successful in a business way along these lines. Several months ago she established herself in business in Longview, featuring her paintings and other decorations in a little gift shop there. It was there that she met Mr. King, who has been a prominent business man of Longview for several years. He is clerk of the district court in that city.

Mary Frances' many friends here wish her many years of happy married life.

The fourth grade of the Anna school enjoyed a picnic in Strother's pasture near that city Tuesday afternoon, April 10. Some twenty pupils were chaperoned on the picnic by Misses Frances Milligan and Annie Laurie Lane. About twenty-five members of the eighth grade of that excellent school were also present on a weiner roast Wednesday night. All reported a good time.

Bennett Harrington, the twelve-year-old son of County Judge J. Frank Harrington and wife, has been out of school for a week on account of an attack of the flu. Another one of their sons has recovered from the same ailment. Judge Harrington, wife and children seem to be having more than their share of sickness and suffering caused by the fearful accident that befell the judge and wife about the first of last December.

Tom M. Scott Presides.

Tom M. Scott, president of the Board of Governors of the hospital, presided over the program, giving the welcome address. He also made a comprehensive report of some of the work of the hospital, which is one of our city's most outstanding and beneficient institutions. The hospital has just closed thirteen years of service to McKinney, during which time it has maintained the same high standard and is recognized today as a fully approved hospital, for one of its size, by the American College of Surgeons, and from inspections that have been made. Mr. Scott explained that the hospital has cared for 6,500 indoor patients and 2,500 outdoor patients during these thirteen years. The people of our city are not taxed for the upkeep of the institution and since 1930 the hospital has showed a decided improvement, much new equipment being purchased, when funds were available, making it one of the most modern institutions to be found in this section of the state.

Mr. Scott stated that the Board of governors has received the wholehearted support of Mayor Joe E. Largent, Commissioners C. M. Bryan and Add Wilson and of County Judge J. Frank Harrington and his county commissioners court. He stated that our people are growing more and more to appreciate the institution, and especially those who had been patients there.

He closed his remarks with words of commendation to the school of nursing which is so efficiently directed. With the young ladies in this spring's class a total of thrty graduate nurses have gone out from the McKinney City hospital, many of whom are holding responsible positions in some of the larger hospitals of the nation.

Mr. Scott then presented Dr. Robert L. Cowan, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who brought a forceful message to the graduates, greatly appreciated by them and by the large number of visitors present.

Dr. Cowan congratulated Misses Henry, Williams and Gotcher upon choosing this humanitarian profession as their life's work, and commended McKinney for having such a splendid school of nursing. He told of the influence we have on others and how this influence can help others. Addressing the graduates, he said, "You are fellowmen in the use of your talents as you start out before men." He explained the influence a nurse has upon a patient, loved ones and friends with whom they come in contact.

"There are two kinds of influence," he stated, "the conscious and the unconscious influence. One influence we can control, the other we cannot. One is the impressions we make in our everyday lives, sometimes, however, we do not know what impressions we are making. This is a noble profession, in which these young ladies have worked hard to prepare themselves and they will realize, as they journey along the pathway of life, more and more the value of influence."

In explaining the faith we have in nurses, Dr. Cowan declared that the nurse is usually called when absolutely necessary, and when the family, physicians and all others have done everything that loving hands can do to minister to their loved one. "It is because of the ability of the nurse and the confidence we have in her that she is called at these times, and many times, through her patience and alertness, she has brought back to life that patient who was at death's door.

Reward of Service.

"The great reward that comes for this siencere service, is the joy and comfort to our hearts and conscience when we feel we have done some good to our fellowman. Nothing can take the place of this joy in our hearts when we know we have rendered a service to others and our lives have not been in vain."

The graduating exercises were closed with the class rising and repeating the Florence Nightingale pledge, after they had been presented with their diplomas by Mr. Scott. Dr. Cowan gave the benediction.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent in a social way, the student nurses of the school passing delicious ice cream and cake to the guests.

YOUR HOME TOWN

SEEN HERE AND THERE

These April showers are coming with frequent intervals in our home town; the one-inch rainfall Tuesday night accompanied by an electrical and thunder storm indicated a heavy rainfall somewhere near here . . . Jack Weeks, poultryman and authority on the subject, inserts a classified ad in these papers announcing fryers for sale; in the spring-time one's appetite calls for fried chicken and all accessories . . . What young McKinney lady, whose birthday doesn't occur until a week or so hence, was surprised with a nice birthday gift Tuesday evening? And is she looking at the world through rose-colored glasses today! . . . E. M. Kressly passing by our office and giving us a friendly smile . . . Mrs. Cliff Goggans being given a ride to town this morning; she's one of the efficient force of employes over at the T. P. & L. company . . . Aubrey Hamilton, of the Hamilton-Patterson Motor company, humming a tune while en route home . . . Mr. and Mrs. Coman Mitchell coming downtown . . . Jackie, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Belden, is a 100 per cent American boy and no foolin'.

"GO TO CHURCH" SUNDAY

"Go To Church" on Sunday, April 22. On that date, the McKinney Junior Chamber of Commerce will put forth every effort to have present in McKinney churches as many local citizens as possible. All Junior Chambers of Commerce in the state are sponsoring this move Sunday. The project was originated by the McKinney organization last year and was put over so successfully hat the Board of Directors of the State Chamber, in a meeting several months ago, adopted it as a state project.

THEY NEED YOU

If you haven't been going to church regularly wouldn't this be a good time to start back again? McKinney has some splendid churches, all boasting able pastors who love their work and their membership. Going to church is a good thing for everyone, not only spiritually but mentally; it is restful and peaceful. Why not start back next Sunday, if you haven't been attending regularly?

A FAST LEAGUE

Attendance at the City Diamond Softball League games is holding up unusually well, so far, especially during this week when six-inning games have been instituted, the contests being two innings longer. A large number of cars line the field every afternoon and local citizens watch their favorites perform. A damp field and threatening clouds did not deter anyone from attending Tuesday afternoon for the Firemen Athletic club game. Y. H. T. is playing no favorites in the league, so we won't tell you who is our choice to win the flag and for whom we are rooting. But, we enjoy all the games and will say that the league is exceptionally fast for its type.

IN RADIO LAND

The summer of 1934, we note, will have the largest radio audience in history, according to an authentic survey. More than a million homes have been added to the radio public since 1933, a total of 3,806,000 sets being sold during 1933. Eighteen million homes or 60 per cent of the entire United States, are now radio-equipped. In addition, some 700,000 automobile radios were sold during 1933, and the total now in use is estimated at more than a million. These and the millions of portable sets in vogue assure radio reception to vacationists even while traveling.

Representative Joe McCullough Asked To Speak

Representative Joe W. McCullough of this county has accepted an invitation to deliver a brief lecture on the "Penitentiary System" in the chapel of the Prosper High school at 10:00 o'clock Thursday morning, April 19. Mr. McCullough was a member of the legislative committee appointed last year to personally investigate conditions in the Texas penitentiary at Huntsville and on the various farms that the state prison system owns and operates. Mr. McCullough gave a printed review of his observation in that capacity, which were printed in this newspaper some months ago. He is a good public speaker and doubtless his address will be very interesting to the teachers and pupils of the Prosper school on Thursday morning.

Mrs. J. W. Farley of Stiff Chapel underwent a major operation at the City hospital here Tuesday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock. She is resting as well as can be expected. Her husband is here attending her bedside.

HIGHWAY 24 ASSOCIATION HOLDS MEETING

Representatives from thirteen counties, through which State Highway 24 passes, attended the second meeting of that Highway association held in Graham, Young county, Texas, Thursday afternoon, April 12, presided over by A. H. Eubanks of McKinney, president of the association.

The Highway 24 association was formed in McKinney Tuesday, March 28, at a meeting called by the local Chamber of Commerce and attended by representatives from cities along this highway. Purpose of the organization, as was pointed out at both the McKinney and Graham meetings, is to procure Federal aid over No. 24, making it an up-to-date and modern highway in every respect, passing through the state east to west.

Graham proved an excellent host city to the gathering. The meeting was presided over by President Eubanks with Secretary W. Hammond Moore recording the minutes. Addresses of welcome were extended by Mayor J. J. Gallaher of Graham; Sam S. Bates, chairman of the Highway committee of the Graham Chamber of Commerce; Sam Harbison, president of the Graham Chamber of Commerce; J. C. Watson, secretary of the Graham Chamber of Commerce and County Judge Remington of Young county.

President A. H. Eubanks, in his opening remarks, expressed the entousiasm of the alrge attendance present. With a concerted drive among the various cities and counties along Highway 24 it will be possible to get Federal aid over this important cardinal Texas highway, he said.

13 Counties Represented.

President Eubanks recognized the various county delegations, representatives being present from Cochran, bordering the New Mexico border, 300 miles from Graham; Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Knox, Baylor, Young, Jack, Wise, Archer, Denton and Collin.

Because of the great distance across the state, east to west, this second meeting of the Highway 24 association was held west of McKinney in order to make it possible for West Texas counties and cities to be represented. At the first meeting held in McKinney all East Texas counties were represented from Delta to Young. With the organization of the West end of the highway the association is now complete and, behind the capable leadership of President Eubanks, Vice-President C. P. Dotson of Decatur and others, it is expected that a concerted drive will be made by counties and cities touching on this road before the Higaway Commission to secure Federalization.

More Than 100 Attended.

Vice presidents or key men are being named in each city along this important route to act as that city's representative in all meetings pertaining to the Federalization of No. 24.

The Graham meeting was attended by city and county officials and other important individuals, numbering more than 100, including county judges, county commissioners, mayors, chambers of commerce presidents and secretaries and others. At least five county judges of as many counties were in attendance, namely, J. W. Melton, Knox county; J. L. Winder, Cochran county; Judge C. McDaniel, Baylor county; Judge Harold E. Dycus of Archer county and Judge H. C. McClure of Jack county. County Commissioner Don O. Davis represented the Collin County Commissioner's court.

Resolution Adopted.

The Resolutions committee brought in a resolution asking the State Higaway Commission to pass the necessary resolutions asking for Federal designation of State Highway 24 and ,furthermore, asking the State Highway Commission of Texas to designate this highway as one of the cardinal roads of Texas. The resolutions opposed any further diversion of the state gasoline tax; that the association and towns represented ask congressmen and senators to use their influence in order that at least $400,000,000 of Public Works or relief funds be set aside for construction of highways, thereby giving aid to the unemployed in our state. The resolutions also requested the officers and directors of the association to consider the adviability of promoting a motorcade over this highway to create interest therein. Another point in the resolutions was that the officers of the association be requested to communicate with the State Highway Commissions of Oklahoma and New Mexico and continuous states thereto in an effort to secure Federalization of the extension of Highway 24 through these states.

Collin Delegation.

McKinney had a delegation of eight at the meeting which, together with eight from Frisco, made this county the banner county in attendance, outside of Young county, at the meeting. McKinney's delegation was composed of A. H. Eubanks, president of the association; W. Hammond Moore, secretary; County Commissioner Don O. Davis, F. B. Pope, A. M. Scott, Roy C. Heathington, C Hansford Ray and Don W. Bagwill, of these papers.

Frisco's delegation was composed of John Sparks, W. H. Clark, F. P. Shrader, H. F. Martin, C. W. Montgomery, S. G. Carpenter, Dr. W. L. Saye Jr. and J. A. McCauley.

F. B. Pope of McKinney, Secretary W. Hammond Moore and W. L. Saye Jr. of Frisco were among those who addressed the gathering.

Graham's Hospitality.

Graham displayed true West Texas hospitality to the visiting Good Roads delegations from the several counties represented. Graham is one of West Texas' finest cities. Everything possible was done for the convenience and entertainment of the guests. The sessions of the Highway 24 association meeting were held in the City auditorium, a beautiful structure which would do credit to a city many times Graham's size. The Chamber of Commerce headquarters are located in this building.

At the suggestion of President Eubanks a rising vote of thanks was given to the Graham Chamber of Commerce and Secretary Watson for the fine entertainment of the guests.

A young, eighteen-year-old negro, Billy Pruitt, is in jail at McKinney under a $10,000 bond with the grave charge of attempted criminal assault resting against him .He is a son of Andrew Pruitt and wife, a negro farm couple residing west of town.

Pruitt is alleged to have made an attempt to criminally assault a twelve-year-old white school girl of the Walnut Grove community Tuesday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock. The girl while on her way home from school was attacked by the negro as she was crossing a bridge in a wooded section. It is alleged that the negro had been laying in wait. He threw the girl to the ground, but stopped in his attack by the screams of other school children who witnessed the affair. These screams frightened away the would-be assaulter.

Wednesday morning, Deputy Sheriffs A. G. Sparlin and George Rubsuka arrested Pruitt and lodged him in the jail here. He waived examining trial. County Attorney W. C. Dowdy and assistant, Leon O. Moses, set the bond at $10,000.

His case will be submitted to the grand jury when it meets, Monday, April 23.

The Citizens Conservation Corps camp indoor or softball team, of Farmersville, will meet the fast Rita team of the junior Softball league in a game to be played at the Junior field in the western part of the city today, (Thursday) afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. SENATE PASSES BANKHEAD COTTON BILL

Regimentation of the cotton farmer under rigid production control in the coming crop year virtually was assured Saturday when the senate adopted the report of conferees who sought to iron out differences between the house and senate bills.

The measure, limiting production in the next crop year to 10,000,000 bales, now goes to the house where immediate action is certain. Signature of President Roosevelt already promised, will make the experimental law effective

Observers of the development of the administration's farm policy see the measure as a forerunner of other legislation which may extend the policy to other basic crops.

The bill provides that the secretary of agriculture for the crop years 1934-1935 will allot the production of 10,000,000 bales among the various production areas. This allotment system will be worked down to the individual farmer on the basis of his average production for the past five crop years. Excessive number of bales will be heavily taxed as to render them unprofitable.

MEN, INTOXICATED, DRIVE CAR INTO SHERIFF'S YARD

Saturday night, three men under the influence of intoxicating liquor, tried to turn onto South Tennessee street off East Anthony. They were traveling at a high speed and were unable to slow down. Consequently, they crashed into the yard on the opposite side of the street.

Imagine their surprise a few minutes later, when Deputy Sheriff Arbie Sparlin and S. J. (Stony) Allen dashed out and arrested them. They were still confined to jail Monday.

The yard into which they so crashed was that of Sheriff and Mrs G. J. S. Walker, 316 South Tennessee street. Mrs. Walker wasted no time in calling the Sheriff's office, but her husband was out after some car thieves, his deputies answering the call.

Editorial Expression

Home printers are taxpayers and help to keep "the home fires burning." When a candidate gives you a card, inviting you to vote for him or her, kindly ask them if your "home printer" printed them. Of course, no candidate would have the "nerve" to ask you to vote for him or her, when they had their printing done away from the county here where they expect to get their votes. Candidates, naturally, expect their votes from people who live in St. Louis, Dallas and other places, provided, they have their printing done there. They could not consistently ask home printers and home people to vote for them. We believe in helping those who help us. Scratch us, beloved, and we will do our best for you. We need you; you need us. You help us; we help you. If you want to kill the goose that lays the golden egg—oh, boy, O. K. Every dog has a day to bark. On July 28, the home printers will have their day. They can vote, too.

True economy is brought about by getting something really worthwhile for your money through careful shopping. Know what you want, save your money and then go and get it. Don't decide in a minute,make a useless promise to pay and throw yourself into embarrassment and the creditor into bankruptcy. Take time. That is the trouble with our financial situation now. We thought that our name on a piece of paper was as good as the Federal Treasurer's. Be thoughtful, be saving and above all, be sure what you get is what you want. Do you know how to find out what you want? Read the Daily Courier-Gazette or the Weekly Democrat-Gazette for real economies in every day necessities. Practice reading our ads.

Our State Highway Department has recognized the importance and necessity of beautifying our Texas highways. This is particularly important since the Federal government of Mexico is giving so much attention to opening up highways from the Rio Grande to Mexico City and on through that Southern republic. Mexico has a marvelous scenic attraction that is hardly equaled anywhere in the western world. Texas is her next door neighbor on the north, with much in common as to natural scenery. Our State Highway Commission is to be commended for engaging Jac. L. Gubbels, a landscape engineer of distinction, to plan and direct Texas State Highway beautification work.

The State of Colorado is practically supported by tourist trade. If the ideals and objectives of Texas Garden clubs are attained, Texas can greatly benefit from the same source, because this state has at least eight months in the year suitable for tourist travel, and it is the gateway to Mexico. The McKinney Garden Club is wideawake on the importance of beautification. Its activities have had much to do with the beautification of our homes, yards, streets and highways. There are seven or eight other Garden Clubs equally as active at other points in Collin county.

Your store may be stocked with the most desirable merchandise, bought right and priced right for today's highly competitive market. Yet you are still faced with the task of telling your story to the public. It must be told interestingly and reach the greatest number of homes at the smallest unit of cost per sale. Use the advertising columns of the Daily Courier-Gazette, "Supreme in its field;" and Weekly Democrat-Gazette, Collin's oldest established newspaper.

Texas has thirty-one senators. Many people would like to see the number reduced to fifteen or sixteen. Texas has one hundred and fifty members of the House of Representatives. Lots of people would like to see the number reduced to forty or fifty. It would take a Constitutional amendment to make the reductions. It would cut tax payers' expense and a whole heaps' of oratory, because there would be fewer members. No one should object to the change.

When a candidate offers you a card, receive it courteously. Some people do not treat the candidates with common decency. Some people are grum and too pessimistic to see anything good in life or in other people. They are born in the objective case. When such misfit characters pass on, the community is better off. We know people who would be glad to patronize the florist to send lilies for the mounds of these chronic complainers and misfits in life.

The Collin County Milk Products Company plant in this city, which began operations on Saturday, March 24, is a distinct addition to the industries of our city and county. It was badly needed to afford a market for Collin farmers and dairymen for their surplus milk. Its weekly milk pay checks will come in mighty handy to its farmer patrons.

A fellow who was scratching his head the other day said he was digging for ideas. That must be a new name for them. In Paris we called them grey backs.

PENNY COMPANY WAS FOUNDED 32 YEARS AGO

J. C. PENNEY

All during this month J. C. Penney stores from coast to coast are celebrating the founding of the company 32 years ago in the little mining town of Kemmerer, Wyoming. It was on April 14th, 1902, that an ambitious young man with an idea, invested all his savings in a venture which was to mark the beginning of a new day in retail merchandising. He was J. C. Penney, who has since become known as "the man with a thousand partners."

He had conceived a new idea and a new set of principles for retail store operation. He had the vision to see that there were limitless possibilities in his day. He was convinced of the soundness of his principles and he had the courage of his convictions. He believed that the time was ripe for putting into action polices he had nurtured in his mind for several years.

He ran the Kemmerer store on the assumption that it was good business to give people the most for their money in quality, service and satisfaction. He sold only for cash because it meant he could sell things more economically. He determined upon a four-point policy in his dealings with the public:

3. To keep store without extravagance.
4. To deal fairly with all customers and co-workers.

The idea which Penney fostered was a co-operative partnership—the idea of having several stores which could buy collectively and hence more advantageously, and of having each store manager an active partner in the business and sharing in the profits.

This idea developed rapidly and by 1910 Mr. Penney had acquired fourteen stores. At this time he put into operation a system of centralized buying, bookkeeping, accounting, etc., that is the keystone of the present day organization.

By 1924 the company had opened 500 stores, store number 500 being in Hamilton, Missouri, the birthplace of Mr. Penney. Expansion from this point on was much more rapid. In five years from 1924 to 1928 inclusive the company opened more than 500 new stores, and in the year 1929 alone, nearly as many more were added. Today, 32 years later, there are nearly 1500 Penney stores located in towns and cities in every state in the nation. In 1933 the company did a total business of more than $178,000,000.

The McKinney store of the Penney company will play a prominent rolo in this year's anniversary celebration. The store is under the complete supervision of Mr. Chas. M. Cooper, manager, and Choice McClure, assistant manager, who said today that he anticipated the biggest single month's business in the store's history from the anniversary celebration.

Candidacy Is Announced For Commissioner District No. 4

This paper is authorized to announce the candidacy of R. C. Fortner of Plano as an aspirant for County Commissioner of District No. 4.

Mr. Fortner is a practical farmer, who has made a success at the business, and is still sticking to the farm, being a lover of the soil and its auxiliary branches, especially that of livestock breeding.

He is justly regarded as one of the county's most estimable, useful and influential citizens. He is conservative in his thinking and speech, yet forward looking, capable and generally regarded as a solid, sound, safe business man—modest almost to a fault.

He was in the race for the same office two years ago at which time he was defeated only by a very close margin in a group of aspirants for the place.

He has received much encouragement to become a candidate again this year. This encouragement has come from every part of the district, and so Mr. Fortner has decided to cast his hat in the ring and make a thorough, active canvass for the honor that he so narrowly missed before.

His friends believe that our county affairs would always be in capable, honest and energetic hands if committed to such type of public officials as R. C. Fortner, who promises, if elected, to devote every ounce of ability that he possesses to making the county the best Commissioner that he is capable of.

He submits his candidacy for this important office on his fitness, reputation and capability as a citizen and interested taxpayer to fill the place in a satisfactory manner.

He will appreciate your earnest consideration and, if you see fit to endorse his candidacy and help him, he shall greatly appreciate the same and thanks you not only for the past favors, but also thanks you in advance for whatever you may do for him in his present race.

Miss Florence Spradley of Allen renews her Daily Courier-Gazette subscription for another period of two months in advance. The Spradley family is one of the county's most estimable and influential. Miss Florence's father was an honored pioneer settler of near Allen.

Why Liquid Laxatives are Back in Favor

The public is fast returning to the use of liquid laxatives. People have learned that the right dose of a properly prepared liquid laxative will bring a perfect movement without any discomfort at the time, or after.

The dose of a liquid laxative can be varied to suit the needs of the individual. The action can thus be regulated. A child is easily given the right dose. And mild liquid laxatives do not irritate the kidneys.

Doctors are generally agreed that senna is a natural laxative. It does not drain the system like the cathartics that leave you so thirsty. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a liquid laxative which relies on senna for its laxative action. It gently helps the average person's bowels back to regularity.

You can always get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store, ready for use. Member N. R. A.

J. R. Craft, a farmer living on Route 1, Melissa, has fixed up his subscription for another year. Last year, he and his good wife purchased a nice farm on Highway 75, south of Melissa, one-and-a-half miles. They have improved their farm with a new barn, chicken house and garage, besides quite a bit of remodeling of their family residence, which they repapered and repainted inside and out. Fences are being straightened and built around the place generally. It will be a really attractive farm home when these improvements are all completed. This worthy couple are the parents of two children, a girl Jesse, 14 and Jewel, a son about 9. Mrs. Craft was formerly Miss Sallie Neal, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Neal of Melissa and is a sister of J. W. Neal, the banker at Princeton.

Texas state flower, the bluebonnet, is now coming into its greatest beauty in this section of the state. It is particularly becoming more and more a popular flower in McKinney and other parts of Collin county. One of the prettiest bluebonnet plants that we have ever seen is a single stalk growing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Turrentine, 807 North Kentucky street. It came up from the seed in their cactus rock bed in December and has been growing ever since until it is now eighteen inches tall with a thirty inch spread and contains about forty blooms besides numerous other buds preparing to open. The sand and gravel in the cactus bed seems to be agreeable soil to the greatest development of the bluebonnet. This plant is the largest one so far as we remember that this editor and his wife have ever seen.

Collin county farmers, who have signed up Cotton Reduction contracts for their 1934 crops, have been called upon by the Federal government for a further blanket reduction of average yield amounting to 9½ per cent. This 9½ per cent reduction applies to every farmer alike who holds a cotton acreage reduction contract for this year.

The Central Committee of the cotton reduction plan in Collin county, composed of Henry W. Warden, chairman; Dr. W. T. Hoard and James H. Merritt, have used every means at their command to dissuade the Federal government authorities from carrying out this blanket reduction demand, believing and hoping that the reduction already secured in the contracts sent in, should satisfy the government.

As a last report in their effort to prevent this further required reduction, Messrs. Warden and Merritt and Dr. Hoard made a special trip to College Station to interview the State Reviewing Board, having authority in the matter where they personally presented every argument at their command to bring about a rescinding of the 9½ per cent further reduction asked for.

In order to strengthen this personal interview, the committee took along with them Orlie L. Moss of the County Farm Agent's office and F. Dudley Perkins, an influential graduate of the A. & M. college and one of the most influential friends of that institution and the Extension Service. But, all that they could do or say proved of no avail as the Reviewing Board was also besieged by representatives from many other counties, quite a number of them being called upon to make a still greater reduction than Collin county was asked to do. Therefore, the delegation from Collin county returned home unsuccessful in their mission in behalf of the cotton farmers of our county, being informed that there is nothing else to do but for each contract holder to submit to the nine and a half per cent further reduction in their average yield on their contract.

The County committee, Messrs. Warden, Merritt and Dr. Hoard, are extremely anxious for the farmers to send in or bring in their agreements to this reduction, so that their contracts may be sent on in to Washington and the first installment of checks in payment on same can be sent to the contract holders who have complied.

LIGHTNING STRIKES HOME AT SPRING HILL

During an electrical storm, the home of Tommy George and family was struck Saturday night by lightning in the Spring Hill community in East Collin and four of the seven rooms were badly damaged. Mr. and Mrs. George were playing dominoes at the time and were badly shocked by the stroke. Two children, sleeping in another room were not awakened by the flash as that room was not damaged.

When Mr. George regained consciousness he was lying across the table and found his wife laying on the floor, the back of the chair in which he was sitting was torn to bits, the weather boarding and shingles were striped from the house and scattered over the yard.

MISS ELIZABETH ABERNATHY BRIDE MALCOLM WALLACE

A wedding of wide social interest in McKinney was solemnized in Dallas Friday night when Miss Elizabeth Abernathy became the bride of Malcolm Wallace of Melissa. Rev A. L. Clinkenbeard performed the ring ceremony at his home in Dallas.

The bride, who was lovely in a navy blue sheer suit with white accessories, was attended by her cousin, Miss Luralee Scott and Miss Marcella Klepper. The brides maids wore white, with corsage bouquets of pink rosebuds. The bride carried a bridal bouquet.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Wallace left for a brief honeymoon trip, returning Sunday to Fort Worth where they were entertained with a dinner at the home of Mrs. Wallace's aunt, Mrs. R. H. Foster. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Abernathy. She was born and reared in McKinney where she has a large circle of friends. She is prominent in club work and religious activities. She is a gradaute of the McKinney High school.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Wallace of Melissa, and is among the promising young men of the county. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace will reside for a while at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Abernathy. Their many friends wish them many years of prosperous and happy wedded life.

Three Day C. E. Convention Closed Sunday Night

Another Christian Endeavor convention of Sherman District C. E. Union has passed into history, a convention that will mean much in the days to come to the churches of the four counties represented in such large numbers throughout the sessions. The young people have enjoyed happy fellowship together, have made many news friends, have listened to helpful advice, have been inspired by uplifting addresses, and have returned to their homes to serve and love and press forward in their "Witnessing for Christ" program.

Award to Miss Bowman.

Most of the sessions were presided over by Miss Mary Frances Diefenderfer of Denison, District President, and two of them by Miss Bonnie Mae Gray, vice-president of the district. Donald Bubar of Fort Worth was toastmaster on Saturday night at a Fellowship banquet that filled the dining room of the First Christian church to capacity. At this banquet awards were made for outstanding services.

Among the awards was one made by the Texas C. E. Union to the District reaching its registration quota for district convention first. This award was made jointly to Miss Mary Frances Diefenderfer as president of the District and to Miss Mary Ruth Bowman as registration chairman of this convention. Mr. Bubar spoke words of appreciation for the presence in this meeting of the pastors of Sherman district. There were seven: Dr. Clifford S. Weaver, and Dr. E. O. Whitwell, of McKinney; Rev. A. L. Clinkenbeard, of Dallas; Rev. Raymond Partlow and Dr. Roy Biser, of Sherman; Rev. G. Layton Miller, of Denison, and Rev. L. S. Markham, of Leonard; and under the direction of Mr. Bubar the Endeavors sang a verse in honor of the pastors:

"Through joys and disasters.
We'll stand by our pastors;
All in favor say 'Aye'."

Dr. Hodges Speaks.

At the Saturday night session, Dr. B. A. Hodges of Waxahachie spoke on "Witnessing for Christ in Social Justice." "A Christian," Dr. Hodges said, "is one whose ruling purpose in life is to conform, not only outwardly in conduct, but inwardly with the divine ideals as manifest in Christ Jesus. A Christian is a growing personality. He has two tasks that of developing Christian personality and developing a Christian Social order." Dr. Hodges outlined the "Treasure Chest of the Ideal Christian" as containing five "Treasures," the supremacy of the spiritual, an ideal of God and of every man as the Father's son, a correct regard for human life, service ,and the dynamic of love.

At this session, Otho Odell of Denison, at papular request, was included on the program and sang "I am Thinking Tonight of That Beautiful Land."

Officers Installed.

President, Mary Frances Diefenderfer, Denison.

Vice president, Bonnie Mae Gray, Sherman.

Secretary-treasurer, Ernest McBee, Howe.

Pastor counsellor, Dr. Clifford S. Weaver, McKinney.

Educational superintendent, Eloise Murrell, Gainesville.

Extension superintendent, Edna Douglass, Van Alstyne.

Missionary superintendent, Terrie Johnson, Melissa.

Recreational superintendent, Rev. L. S. Markham, Leonard.

Publicity superintendent, Mary Ruth Bowman, McKinney.

World and Publications superintendent, Raymond Chapman, Whitesboro.

Junior superintendent, Mrs. L. S. Markham, Leonard.

Bubar Speaks.

Following the installation service, Miss Janet Miller gave the convention a very wonderful message in song and Donald Bubar spoke on "Witnessing for Christ in International Good Will and Peace." He dealt particularly with the part that Endeavors as individuals can play in holding up the ideals of friendship between nations and in constantly bearing in mind that our country has never fought an aggressive war. In connection with the thought on International Good Wil and Peace, he spoke of foreign missions, condoning the attitude of some church members in saying "I don't believe in foreign missions." He said we can be sure that the Communists and Fascists of other countries do believe in "foreign missions" because we can encounter now and shall surely encounter more of the propaganda of these radicals here in our own country in days to come.

The regular Christian Endeavor hour at 6:30 was a part of the convention program. This hour was led by Miss Tezzie Johnson of Melissa, who had as a special treat the high school orchestra of young people, directed by Prof. Ralph E. Frazier, as a feature of her program.

The Junior C. E. program was led by Sara Elizabeth Nelson. A Bible Sharpshooting contest was conducted. Sara Elizabeth Nelson won the first award, and Ross Orenduff, Jr., the second.

Sunday Night Service.

The Sunday night service was one of the most inspiring of all the convention. Under the direction of Miss Lavelle Wilson, the Y. P. C. E. of the Central Presbyterian church, Sherman, brought a pageant "The Challenge of the Cross," the principal role enacted by Miss Bonnie Mae Gray. At the conclusion of the pageant, Dr. Roy Biser spoke briefly, using as his theme, "The Challenge of the Cross," and concluded his address by calling forth in the following order to the altar, where each lighted his candle, first the young people who participated in the pageant, then the officers past and present of the district, then the county officers of the four counties represented, then the officers of the City Unions, and then the officers and sponsors of the many C. E. societies. When the leaders had taken their places, each with his lighted candle, Dr. Biser asked all active Endeavors to find places around the wall of the church, and Dr. Weaver led the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." With a very sacred repetition of the Mizpah benediction, the meeting of the Sherman district C. E. convention came to a close.

T. W. McGraw of Dallas was in McKinney Monday, being interested in a case in Judge J. Frank Harrington's county court. Mr. McGraw is an old Wylie resident and is well known to many McKinney people.

English Pea Will Withstand Freezing Weather

A kind of English pea that will withstand freezing weather is being grown this year by many of the home demonstration club women. Those being grown by Mrs. W. P. Bryan, member of the Bethany Home Demonstration club, are now ready to bloom. Mrs. Bryan told Miss Helen Dunlap, county home demonstration club agent, that they were planted last November. Although they were frozen by the cold weather of March 17, they grew up again and are now looking strong, while others she has look very tender.

Mrs. Bryan, last year, made a specialty of growing cauliflower, many heads averaging 2½ to 3 pounds. This year she is planning to grow more of it and has plants now almost large enough to transplant to the garden. WASHINGTON, D. C. NATIONAL NEWSPAPER GIVES SUCCINCT REVIEW OF HIS CAREER FROM CHILDHOOD TO HIS PRESENT LEADERSHIP IN PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S ADMINISTRATION LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM—RETIRING IN NATURE BUT VERY INFLUENTIAL IN CONGRESS.

The United States News, a national capital weekly newspaper of country-wide circulation, in a recent issue featured a story run with a large size picture, concerning Congressman Sam Rayburn of this district. It gives a concise, thumb-nail sketch of his life, characteristics and political career. His prominence in national newspapers is occasioned by his leadership in the present Congress as Chairman of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce committee; author of the recent Securities Act put forward by President Roosevelt's special request and now by the same request being in charge of the Stock Exchange bill in the House of Representatives.

The news story follows:

How many of the members of the New York or the Chicago Stock Exchange ever heard of Sam Rayburn before the birth of Securities Act?

It might have been well if some of them had known more. If they came to Washington (and from the testimony it would seem that some did) with the idea that they were to be interrogated by either a wild-eyed radical or tobacco-stained countryman they may have been a little surprised. But then few people, if they depend on the public prints for their information, know much about his affable gentleman whose hair—such as there is left of it—has grown grey in Congress and who has served on just one committee, Interstate and Foreign Commerce, known exactly what it's all about and doesn't pretend to be an expert on any other subject—except maybe Jersey cattle.

But don't get the idea that Sam Rayburn is an octogenarian. He was born in 1882 and since he was five has been living in or near Bonham, Texas. But he was stung by the political bee very early in life.

Political Ambition Was An Early Outcrop.

A barefooted boy curled up in the corner reading the biographies of the country's great men was the avatar of this Congressman. And he was still a school boy when he announced the fact that he was going to run for the State Legislature as soon as he finished his law course, that he was going to be Speaker some day and after that run for Congress. And that's just what he did. And all he had to start with was $25 and his father's blessing.

Young Sam Rayburn was one of 11 children, whose forbears came by way of Tennessee from Virginia to this borderline county in Texas and there turned the virgin furrows in a neighborhood that still wins its bread from the soil. Young Sam learned to ride a yearling with as much ease as a pony and built a constitution that serves him still. To this day he spends his summers on the farm and wears no boiled shirt under his overalls.

The country schoolhouse was the community-center of the times and here on many a festal day the Rayburn buggy was tied while the whole family heard the local politician's oratory, or attend the recitations or spelling-bees and discussed the latest news in the weekly editions of the Courier-Journal.

To College With $25 for His Expenses.

Young Sam was there with the rest and his silver-tongued and trenchant-penned Colonel Watterson was already a hero when he went to college. When he saw the great editor there arrayed in the splendor of a dress suit, it was the first time the farmer boy had ever gazed upon him.

When Sam absorbed all that the country school had to offer either in its regular sessions or when some visiting pundit proclaimed his views, he went to his father and said he had to go to college. The father was in favor of the motion but regretfully explained that there was nothing in a till for racoon-skin or flivvers or the local equivalent of the day. He did, however, present his ambitious son with $25 in coin of the realm and escorted him to station on the branch line that was to take him to the Texas Normal college.

The boy was a good student, bright and determined to learn all that there was taught him. But when he finished his course and, he was as we have noted, already on his way to Congress, so the next step was naturally the State University law school.

Hangs up His Shingle; Plunges Into Politics.

But his shingle was hardly floating on the Bonham breezes when he was ready for the Legislature. At 24 he was elected. He was a member for four years and then, as per schedule was elected Speaker and served in that capacity for two more. Meanwhile in the summers he practiced law. Then one day in 1912 the county paper announced in black-faced headlines:

"Stores Closed All Day and Everybody Out to Hear Fannin County's Gifted Son Who Is Candidate for Congress."

It was a good thing for some of the rest of the Texas delegation which has managed to get such a generous share of Congressional honors that the quiet young school boy didn't call any more shots than he did. If he had, some of them might have had to step aside. As it was he managed to land a job early, one that isn't given away with a pound of tea and also one that takes a brain to do well.

Jack Garner got it for him, probably. The former member of the House from the other corner of the State liked young Rayburn and showed him around at first. He was appointed to the important Interstate and Foreign Commerce committee and he was at home there. He had already served in a similar capacity in his State Legislature and the devious ways of railroads were no stranger to him. Maybe because he lived on a branch line and they were everyday affairs—twice a day, as a matter of fact, at least.

Today, unprejudiced observers rank Representative Rayburn as among the most important members of the House and it is doubtful if there is any member of his ability who is less conspicuous, less self heralded and less known outside the influential group with which he is immediately in contact. He is quick to protest his ignorance of matters outside his specialized field. He is modest concerning his knowledge on his own subject but his career in Congress has been a long and thorough course of study, as consistent and as continued as any research professor in a university. His light reading is pretty much what it was in his barefoot days—biography, history, government.

He was a member of that efficient group who hidden away from partisan eyes, in one of the many hideouts in the Capitol building, kept the wheels of legislation moving: Nicholas Longworth and Bertrand Snell from the Republican side and Garner, McDuffie and Milligan. With Vice President Garner's elevation to the Senate and "Nick" Longworth dead, it has been broken up but if there is still a similar group functioning you may be sure that Representative Rayburn is one of it.

Into the Limelight With Securities Act.

Of course his name has reached the headlines with the commotion over the Securities Act of 1933 and the pending stock exchange bill. It was to nurse that latter piece of legislation that he was selected by President Roosevelt. The pressure exerted upon the members of Congress who have to deal with that type of legislation is tremendous. But Sam Rayburn's friends knew that his integrity could withstand any assault and it has been his steadfast guardianship that saved the measure from obliteration long ago.

He cannot be classed as a radical. His record of voting is a bit baffling but if anything he leans toward the conservative side and he had his hand in much of the railroad legislation in Republican days though then as ever, he played no public part in its passage.

Stood With Roosevelt or That Veto Ballot.

Indeed it seems to be the fate of Sam Rayburn to have his name left out of the dramatis personae even if he carries a large part of the show. The present Fletcher-Rayburn bill is usually referred to anonymously as the "Stock Exchange Act." Back in Wilson's administration he managed to get a stock and bond bill through the House which died in the Senate and then came back as an important but unidentified part of the Transportation Act, which took over the railroads during the war.

However, he is apparently entirely satisfied with doing the work and getting the credit from the people who count in his scheme of things and leaving the front pages to somebody else. And when it comes to serving his party, he can always be counted upon. It was to be expected that his name in the "Nay" columns when the vote was taken to override the President's veto on the appropriation bill. His skill as a tactician and his easy good humor make him an important factor in the cloak roof. He is a member of the steering committee and he served a term as chairman of the caucus committee.

Probes Deeply Into Political Economy.

That he can handle an "outside job" when called upon to do so was proved when he managed, despite its foredoomed outcome, the big Presidential boom and campaign for his friend, Jack Garner. Later he put his shoulder to the wheel in the national campaign.

Just now the specialist in measures dealing with some of the most intricate and abstruse principle of political economy translates his record into votes as usual remains to Lewisville of his constituents would seem difficult to fanthom. His purely agricultural district is far more interested in stock with four legs and a moo than it is in a stock exchange and a transportation act to them is chiefly the act of transporting a bale of cotton from hither to hence. But he gets things done for the home folks and they seem to take him and his other achievements at their face value.

His pictures give the impression of older man than the one you see as you face him across the desk. When he came to congress with his black hair, his good looks and his affable smile this eligible young bachelor received many invitations. But the tea table talk and dinner conversation apparently soon palled and he began burying himself in his work. Now the hometown papers rejoice in chronicling the fact each summer that he is back among his cows and chickens and not summering at "some fashionable resort."

As a matter of fact, with his present duties these days, the golf clubs that were about his only form of recreation in Washington have gotten pretty rusty and what exercise he gets is limited to climbing around his hay lofts or perhaps occasionally swinging a pitchfork just to see if he's as good as he used to be.

FUNERAL FOR PILOT HELD WEDNESDAY

Three Texas romances were shrouded Wednesday morning with the cindered remains of one of the Southwest's best known airplane pilots, Harry Watts Fowler, 34, which were sent to Houston for burial following a funeral service in Dallas.

Two women whom Fowler had loved were among those who mourned his sudden death. The third, whom he planned to marry and to teach to fly, was one of the three who were passengers on his last joy ride and whose charred bodies rested at another Dallas funeral home.

Fowler's first wife, from whom he was divorced, remained in San Antonio with their two children, unable to attend his last rites. Mourning at the bier was his second wife, Mrs. Peggy Fowler of Dallas, from whom he had been estranged for some time. His third love, whom he planned to wed following a second divorce, was Miss Lillian Rose, 18, of 2525 Oak Lawn avenue, who died with him in one of the most tragic airplane crashes in Dallas history.

The crash occurred shortly before 10:30 Tuesday night on the farm of Al Stone. Fowler circled the plane several times before it headed downward from an altitude of about 300 feet. The plane dived into the muddy field, digging a hole two and a half feet deep. It then bounced and turned over, landing about seventy-five feet away, a roaring furnace fed by more than sixty gallons of gasoline from the plane's tanks.

Belonging to Oil Men.

The plane belonged to Bolding and Murchison, Dallas oil operators. Fowler had piloted the plane since he brought it from the factory in 1930 for the Browning & Ferris Machinery company, who resold it to the oil firm a year later.

The plane took off at 10:04. About twenty minutes later several Denton county farmers looked on in horror as the ship took its fatal plunge. Ernest Phipps, Clay Robertson, E. V. Christie and Melvin Adkins said they saw the plane. Phipps and Robertson reached the scene soon afterwards but for half an hour no one was able to go near the plane because of the intense heat.

Bodies of the victims were buried beyond recognition. Efforts to reach the wreck with ambulances Wednesday were thwarted by the deep mud. Finally mules were used to carry
